This short documentary tells the story of Tony Chachai, a young Aboriginal man in search of his identity. Moved by the desire to reconnect with his Atikamekw roots, he delivers a touching testimony on the journey that brought him closer to his family and community.

This River

This short documentary offers an Indigenous perspective on the devastating experience of searching for a loved one who has disappeared. Volunteer activist Kyle Kematch and award-winning writer Katherena Vermette have both survived this heartbreak, and share their histories with each other and the audience.

Elbow Room

This animated short tackles the subjects of personal space, conflict and conflict resolution in the workplace.

Popcorn and beverages will be served!

Chance for area social workers to meet, chat, watch several excellent, short videos on topics relevant to social work practice, and to enjoy beverages and popcorn. Bring a friend!
